LINDBERGH'S AWAIT CLEAR SKY FOR HOP

Base Ship of Aerial Expedition Ready to Sail for Iceland

NO FOUNDATION FOR REPORTS OF CRASH

A widespread rumor circulated yesterday afternoon to the effect Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh had been killed in an airplane crash. The Colonel was deluged with telephone calls from a host of anxious admirers, who were relieved to learn the report was without foundation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today were held at Julianehood, Greenland, awaiting clear weather for a 1,000-mile flight to Reykjavik, Iceland.

STILL IN GREENLAND

Radio Marine Corporation was in communication at 7:55 p.m., Eastern standard time, with the steamer Jelling base ship of the Lindbergh aerial survey expedition. The Jelling reported the flying couple still was at Julianehood.

The steamer was understood to be ready to sail for Reykjavik, officials of Pan-American Airways, Inc., said. Lindbergh is technical adviser for the air line, for which he is making the air-mapping tour.

TO WAIT FOR SHIP

Company officials said they did not expect the Lindberghs would start the flight to Reykjavik until the Jelling was close to that settlement. Whether the couple would stop at Angmagssalik would depend on the condition of the ice in the harbor there, it was said.

SCHOOL CRISIS IN WASHINGTON

Defeat of Test Cases on Tax Laws May Mean Many Closings

SEATTLE, Aug. 10 (AP).—Confronted by a financial crisis forcing the closing of schools over the state, the committee of fifteen, representing the state's first-class school districts, today called upon the State Supreme Court to set hearings for the "earliest possible date" on the test cases on the income tax and occupational tax laws.

The aim would be to secure final decisions on their constitutionality by September 12, leaders said, which is the latest possible date on which extra millage proposals can be put before voters for the September 20 special elections. The legality of the fourteen days' notice period for such laws was announced in a ruling today.

WOULD RAISE BIG SUM
The two measures, if held constitutional, would raise about $8,000,000, the major share of the state's 50 per cent contribution to the state's general fund.

Despite the adoption of such a resolution, however, district after district reported at today's meeting that the voting of extra millage seemed impossible at the present time.

Dr. N. D. Showalter, state superintendent of public instruction, sent word to the conference through a representative that 90 per cent of the smaller districts in the state would have to close, if the two laws were held invalid.

THIRTEEN LOST WITH SCHOONER

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—The Tidewater Oil Company announced today that the three-masted bark Guadalupe, last of the Spanish sailing ships in the New York-Canary Islands trade, was lost with all thirteen of the crew, about two months ago, in the Caribbean Sea, off the Cuban coast.

The wooden ship, which put into New York about once a year, was bound from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, to Jacksonville, Fla.

Centre of Republic's Political Turmoil

THE above photograph shows a general view of Havana's business section as seen from the harbor. Gunfire in Havana Streets Heard Over Telephone in London

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP).—Shots fired outside the British Consulate at Havana were heard in Fleet Street, London's famed newspaper centre, according to The Evening Standard, which features the story with headlines across the front page.

While The Evening Standard was talking over the Atlantic telephone to J. W. Border, the British Consul, there was a sudden noise like doors banging, and then silence, the paper said.

"Just outside there has been a burst of shooting," The Standard quoted Border. "A police car opened fire on a body of men with machine guns."

Coast Lumber and Fishing Operations Create Employment

Hundreds of British Columbia Men Returning to Work at Tidewater Plants Between Victoria and Queen Charlotte Islands, Reports State

HUNDREDS of men have gone back to work in lumber and fishery operations on the British Columbia Coast between Victoria and the Queen Charlotte Islands, according to Provincial officials, who went over the ground in the first week of this month. A typical report was presented to Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, by F. DeGrey, chief sanitary inspector, showing marked improvement in employment, and also a steady betterment in the sanitary conditions of industrial plants in the Coast region.

Mr. DeGrey reported that 1,000 men were at work in three large logging camps at Menzies Bay, while west of Seymour Narrows two large camps have reopened, and a score of smaller concerns are operating between Discovery Passage and Port Hardy. The Chemalut mill is operating full blast. The Comox Logging and Railway Company is in operation on Vancouver Island. The Powell River pulp mills are running full time. The Merrill-Moore and Stewart camps, on Theodosia Inlet, are preparing for resumption of logging.

Luer was kidnaped from his home, July 10, and released six days later. His family denied ransom was paid.

The freighter was bound from Durazzo to Rotterdam. The cause of the sinking was not given in advices reaching here.

INTERESTED IN U.S. PLAN

New Zealand Statesman Doubts if New Deal Would Work Elsewhere

Smiling broadly as he greeted old friends and inquired about others, Hon. William Downie Stewart, who overcame terrific physical disabilities resulting from war service to win a place in the ranks of the Empire statesmen, arrived from Auckland yesterday morning aboard the Maori. Stewart, former Finance Minister of New Zealand, who resigned in protest against the decision of the Forbes' Union Ministry to adopt a policy of currency depreciation, is on his way to Banff to represent his Dominion as a member of the delegation to the Institute of Pacific Relations Conference and later will attend the Empire commercial relations gathering at Toronto.

WATCHES NEW DEAL
Author of works on political economy and recognized as a leading authority on financial matters, he was chosen as the chairman of the committee on currency and monetary affairs at the Empire Economic Committee at Ottawa, New Zealand, as might be expected, Mr. Stewart is keenly interested in watching the development of President Roosevelt's "new deal" in the United States.

"The President's experiment may prove to be a success—temporarily at least—by reason of the fact that the United States is largely self-contained," he commented. "Perhaps 90 per cent of the producers' market are at home. While the United States may be able, by deliberate depreciation of dollar values and enforcement of an industrial tariff, to protect its market."

COURT CLEARED
The courtroom was ordered cleared after the defendant made his statement regarding fears of America, and the proceedings, which are being held at the Yokosuka naval base, were continued in secret.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION
The sheriff of Toga County, assisted by forty deputies and twenty-five state police, arrested 120 men this morning on suspicion that they were about to waylay a milk train due in a few minutes.

William Armstrong Suffers Three Broken Ribs in Thirty-Five-Foot Drop

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP).—One of the smallest crops of grain harvested in the United States in this century was forecast today by the crop reporting board of the Department of Agriculture, which attributed the condition to drought damage through the Middle West.

CROPS OF GRAIN IN U.S. LIGHTEST IN MANY YEARS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP).—less than the average production during that period, the board said. The wheat crop will range from 800,000,000 bushels, estimated at 409,071,000 bushels, more than 100,000,000 less than the amount of wheat normally required in this country for food, feed and seed.

POST TROOPS ON GERMAN FRONTIER
French Residents Request Precaution Against Repetition of Alleged Aggressions by Nazis

MULHOUSE, France, Aug. 10 (AP).—As a precaution against alleged aggressions by German Nazis such as occurred last February at Huningue, French troops again were stationed on the German frontier near here today.

The French soldiers occupied defensive works along the Rhine at Chalampes. At Kembs they guarded the electric plant and the span over the Alsace Canal. At Huningue they did picket duty at the bridge where brown-shirted groups made an anti-French demonstration, shouting taunts, six months ago.

The dispatch of troops to these frontier points was upon request of the local population.

CUBAN GOVERNMENT CONDEMNS MEDIATION EFFORTS OF U.S.; ARMED INTERVENTION POSSIBLE

Resolution Also Declares Against "Foreign Intermeddling" and Refuses to Consider Demand for President Machado's Resignation as Essential to Peace of Island

Strikes Continue Unabated And Food Shortage Feared

HAVANA, Aug. 10 (AP).—Condemnation of mediation efforts by United States Ambassador Sumner Welles in Cuba's political turmoil was voted today by the executive committee of the Liberal party, supporters of President Machado, whose retirement from office has been asked by the United States diplomat as essential to peace in the region.

The motion, which was drafted by Orestes Ferrara, Secretary of State, was presented by Representative Juan Rodriguez Ramirez. In addition to condemning the ambassador's efforts, it declared against "foreign intermeddling in Cuba," and declared the party considered mediation at end.

The Conservative and Popular parties having announced their support of the plan sponsored by Mr. Welles, which calls upon President Machado, centre of political strife for several years, to quit his post, the crisis in the island appeared to be moving swiftly toward a climax when the Liberal group adopted the contrary position.

SETTLEMENT IN PATH OF FLAME
Forest Fire Long Out of Control Threatens Existence of Community

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 10 (CP).—With a huge forest fire still raging out of control late tonight, the fate of Burlington, a settlement containing 200 people in the White Bay district, hangs in the balance. A change of wind to the southwest would mean destruction to the community.

Although Burlington is isolated from telegraphic communication, a message received through the Prospero wireless station reported five residences, Robins' sawmill, 300,000 feet of lumber and 400 carloads of pulpwood belonging to R. G. Starke, were destroyed. A previous message reported the loss of four mercantile establishments.

A hundred small boats are ready to remove the terror-stricken residents to safety in case the flames change their course and sweep down upon Burlington. Raging for days, the fire covers a large area.

Immigration Stops Local Family From Landing at Quebec

Mrs. William Cuddy and Family, of Victoria, Unable to Return Home After Visiting Aged Relative in England—Sister Here Is Anxious

FOUR Canadian children, who went to England to see their aged grandmother for the first time, are unable to return to their home with their mother, Mrs. William Cuddy, of this city, having been detained in Quebec by immigration authorities, it was learned yesterday from Mrs. S. E. Fallows, of 333 King George Terrace, sister of Mrs. Cuddy.

Just why the mother and her four children, who have resided in Victoria seven years, and in Canada fourteen years, are being detained, has not been definitely ascertained, Mrs. Fallows stated.

HUSBAND DIES
Mrs. Cuddy's husband, who was employed by the Provincial Government, passed away a little more than a year ago. Word that her mother was in ill health and did not have long to live, led Mrs. Cuddy to decide on visiting her old home with her children so that her mother could see the grandchildren for the first time.

She left this city intending to stay some time with her relatives in the Old Country, but did not give up her home or make any change in her investments here.

Wishing to return in time to send the eldest child to school at the opening of the Fall term, Mrs. Cuddy left England about two weeks ago on the Ss. Empress of Britain, and on her arrival at Quebec on August 4, was detained by immigration authorities.

W. J. BOWSER IS CONFIDENT

Tells Esquimalt Electors He Will Be Candidate in Vancouver Centre

"I am going back to the same city that elected me for twenty-one years, and rejected me when I retired from public life. I am going to accept the nomination in Vancouver Centre, and at the end of the election, I will either be re-elected or buried for ever," declared W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Non-Partisan Party, speaking at Esquimalt last night.

The meeting, held at the Sailors' Club, and attended by over 250 persons, was addressed by ex-Reeve James Erick, of Esquimalt, and Non-Party candidate in the constituency. Major J. B. Harding, Bowser's candidate in the Islands riding, and F. C. Elliott.

HELD MANY OFFICES
Mr. Bowser, speaking of the present political situation, and the remarks concerning himself made by Premier Tolmie recently, stated that he had enjoyed twenty-one years of public office in British Columbia, during which time he had been Attorney-General, Premier and Leader of the Opposition, and that his record during that time was perfectly clean, and had not changed in the ten years he had been in retirement.

"I have built up a reputation in that time," said Mr. Bowser, "and have had the administrative experience necessary for leadership. Mr. Pooley supported me during all those twenty-one years, and in September, 1932, the Premier asked me to join a Union Government under his leadership. If he felt that I was not capable of being in an administrative position, why then, did he ask me to join his Government?"

NOVEMBER ELECTION
He predicted that there would be no election until November, but declared that when it did come, the fight would be between his own party and the Liberals.

"There has been a distinct development in public opinion the world over," he said. "The people are beginning to realize that what is really necessary is a government made up of the best brains of the country, regardless of party. In British Columbia, this feeling has been particularly strong. The people here are disatisfied with the old party system, and they have shown it in the manner in which they asked for me to come forward and lead a non-partisan movement. The tributes and encouragement I have received have been enough to inspire anyone, and what could I do but accept their offer and lead them, so that I might give my experience and, in the last few years of my life, see if I could not do something to help British Columbia recover her standing."

PUBLIC WANTS CHANGE
"We have no newspapers behind us, no organization and no money, but the reports that come in to me day after day, show me that public opinion is demanding this change. The party system has failed, and failed so terribly that even Dr. Tolmie dare not lead a party in going to the country; but he, like everyone else in the province, has realized that party politics are no longer any use in provincial political affairs."

Turning to the platform of the non-partisan movement, Mr. Bowser stated that they were making no promises. "There will be no millennium when we are elected," he said. "We will try to put more business and less politics into the governing of the province; we will try to reduce taxes, and we will try to balance the budget. We are determined to cut down on the reckless expenditure that has been going on for the past few years. But if I am elected to power, I will exercise one characteristic which I think everyone in this province knows I possess, the ability to say 'yes' and 'no'. And I can promise you that I will say 'no' far more often than I will say 'yes.'"

SEEKS FREEDOM ECONOMICALLY

Liberal Leader Says Search Is Big Struggle in Political World

CAMROSE, Alta., Aug. 10 (CP).—"The big struggle in the world today is to increase the economic freedom of the people," Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Federal Liberal leader, said to an audience here today, illustrating his point by declaring that as long as a man associated with a great corporation could borrow money from a bank, while a farmer with good security could not, the Liberal leader declared economic freedom was lacking.

But the Liberal method of dealing with such a situation was not to smash the whole system. It was to direct and control it in the interest of the people as a whole. It was to tell the particular institution or organization involved it must do this, and that, and if it failed to do them, then it was time to take it over.

OTHER POLICIES
"The Liberal party believes there should be a national system of employment insurance," he continued. Also he believed the farmer should be insured by the State, and that the State should be in charge of such catastrophes as drought, destructive insect plagues, or other misfortunes which the farmer could not guard against. In each case the people who are benefited might contribute during the good times.

The Liberal policy in regard to unemployment was to establish a great national commission to handle the problem. It would combine the efforts of the great social and charitable organizations, and the best brains in the country. Mr. Bennett's Government had disbursed approximately $120,000,000 on relief. Little has been yet received in return, and the problem had not been solved.

ARGUE DEATH PREVENTS CASE

Father and Son Defending in Charge of Breach of Trust

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10 (CP).—Whatever action lay against Alex Scott Innes for alleged breach of trust in the administration of John Clayton's estate, the claim died with Innes' death, according to H. Ann MacLean, counsel for Mrs. Innes, representative of the estate of her late husband in the proceedings.

In contrast with H. A. MacLean, K.C. of Victoria, who completed his argument in behalf of Arthur Edward Haynes, Victoria financial broker, also a trustee, the son was brief. He associated himself with his father's contention that there was no case for action. He also submitted that the trustees had rendered a full accounting of their administration to the beneficiaries.

The latter, widow, and four children, heirs of Clayton, Bella Coala trader, who died in 1910, alleged defendants made improvident investments amounting to approximately $150,000 from the Clayton estate.

The case is continuing.

BANDIT SUSPECT DIES IN SEATTLE

Youth Succumbs in Hospital to Mysterious Injury to His Head

SEATTLE, Aug. 10 (AP).—George T. Crain, a nineteen-year-old robbing suspect, died in a hospital tonight at a hospital from mysterious head injuries, after having been sent there from the county jail, records showed, because of a "run-down condition."

He was arrested on June 17, accused of abducting and attempting to rob Lewis Peacock, of Kent, after having been picked up on the road by Leacock and being given a job unloading wood.

On a ride together, police were informed, the youth pulled a revolver on the older man, but was subdued in the struggle. Two shots were fired, one of which struck Leacock's little finger.

ELERICK IS PRAISED
Mr. Bowser paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Erick, the candidate in the Esquimalt riding, and for whom the meeting was given. He referred to him as the first opponent that Mr. Pooley has ever had that was "worthy of his steel."

Mr. Erick stated that after holding the office of reeve of the Municipality of Esquimalt for many years he had, like Mr. Bowser, retired. Many efforts had been made to persuade him to run as a non-partisan candidate, but he had refused. When he came to the conclusion that the Province was in such a condition that the non-partisan movement was its only hope, he decided to run. He felt, he said, that if he could be elected on their platform, he could do something to help the Province recover her standing.

TO SEEK LAND GRANTS
He pledged himself to go to Ottawa at his own expense and fight for an annual grant for the municipality for land ownership in the area. He was elected, and stated that he would visit the whole of his constituency at least once a year, and hold a public meeting in Esquimalt, and let his constituents know what the Government was doing.

Major Harding spoke very briefly, stressing the fact that everyone in the province, politicians and electors alike, must be big enough to think of the Province first at the next election, and forsake party lines entirely.

Mr. DeGray reports a much more optimistic feeling along the Coast, as evidenced by the resumption of logging, milling and fishery operations at a great many points, all of which are making for a steady increase of employment.

his family is a less desirable citizen than the person who describes himself as "socially-minded?" Is it more noble to work for the general good than for the daily bread of one's family? It is the belief of many that the social-mindedness of the Socialist is likely to assert itself, not so much in rendering service to the rest of the social order, as in rendering the social order more servicable to the Socialist leaders and organizers.

FARM RELIEF IN U.S.A.

Among the reconstruction plans embarked upon by Mr. Franklin Roosevelt in the United States is the plan to allow mortgage holders to "abstain from bringing foreclosure proceedings and making any effort to dispossess farmers who are in debt to them." This is in the nature of a demand on the forbearance of investors that must be a very considerable number of investors.

In the period of five years just past 13 per cent of American farms have been sold out through failure to meet either taxes or mortgage payments. In the majority of cases today the farmer's gross income is insufficient to meet fixed capital charges. This situation has been caused, at least in part, by the fall in commodity prices. The farmer also claims that "the ratio which existed between his income and his capital charges at the time the latter were fixed has been entirely destroyed and that it should be re-established either by raising the former or by lowering the latter before he is asked to assume responsibility for his obligations."

These increases in expenditures for naval purposes are an outcome of the failure of the latest Disarmament Conference. There is no violation of international treaty rights in what is being done. Britain, too, has the privilege of increasing the strength of her navy and of making it as adequate to her needs as it can be under the Washington and London pacts.

THE UNREVEALED SECRET

Our economic arrangements for the distribution of commodities are based on the idea of price. Food, clothing, and shelter and the like are to be had at a price. There are those who hold that it would be more convenient if these things could be distributed among people according to their needs. There are difficulties, however. In the first place there is no agreement and no prospect of an agreement among individuals as to the kind or the quality or the amount of material goods necessary for the reasonable satisfaction of human needs.

Letters to the Editor

IN THE GREAT WAR Sir,—With reference to Mr. Martin's letter, dated July 24, stating that Britishers did not make up even 50 per cent of the 1st Canadian Division, I should be obliged if you would publish the following figures taken from official sources which clearly show that his statement is absolutely incorrect.

Mr. Martin's further remark that of those who actually arrived in the front line in France not 25 per cent were British is too ridiculous to even comment on. A MORRIS, Colonel. Late The Royal Irish Regt., Brighton Avenue, Oak Bay, B.C., August 9, 1933.

FARMERS FACING BETTER OUTLOOK

The situation of the farmers on the prairies has become materially better this year, says Joseph Taylor, of Calgary, who with his wife and daughter are visiting the city as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Taylor, Dufferin Avenue. The crop, says the Calgary visitor, while not by any means a record-making one, will give a fair yield on the average.

PORT Foreign or Empire?

Why drink foreign Port when the Empire can produce wine of equal quality—at a lower price? EMU Port is proud of its origin. We grow the grapes on our own vineyards; we convert the grapes into wine in our own winery—at Morphets Vale, South Australia. Furthermore, EMU Wines are made up to a high standard of quality—no down to a low standard of price. Yet, in spite of this, EMU Port costs you less than foreign Port of equal quality because of the Canada-Australia Trade Agreement.

Jimmy Mattern on Way Back to New York

BLOWING out a cylinder head over Bruce Peninsula, Ontario, Jimmy Mattern, lost and found world flyer, continued his jinx and landed in Toronto by motor car in company with Pat Reid, whose airplane he was flying. He took off shortly after for Buffalo, then on to New York, where he was rousing welcomed. Here are: 1, Jimmy Mattern, as he appeared at the Toronto Flying Club's field before taking off; 2, Major E. E. Aldrin, New York, who, with his wife, flew the airplane from New York to Toronto in which Mattern took off for Buffalo. Jimmy is seen here with him, holding the rifle given to him by the Soviets, and which he used when forced down in Siberia.

A rejuvenated veteran of the local airways is back on the job. Wells Air Transport's Fairchild seaplane is back on the Victoria-Vancouver division this week, after a major motor overhaul and a little beauty treatment. This aircraft, a familiar sight in many parts of the province, is probably more sought after by air travelers than most others. And Gordon MacKenzie, chief pilot, is happy again to be back at the controls of the machine he has learned to love considerably.

Trans-Canada plane, and is being reconditioned after being out of service for nearly a year. Coote is supervising work on motor and wings of Evans' Moth seaplane. This craft has been flying steadily ever since they brought her out to the coast, having seen a very large part of the province of British Columbia under her new owners.

It's SCOTTISH that matters!

If genuine Scotch whisky—round and ripe, soft and satisfying—could be made anywhere by following a formula—no one would trouble to bring whisky all the way from Scotland. But with Scottish materials and Scottish skill, whisky becomes something the rest of the world can only drink and admire. Does it matter that Johnnie Walker cannot be copied?—when you will find it waiting for you everywhere from Halifax to Vancouver exactly as it left Scotland.

Stag Tea Held for Rotarian

Mr. William Dinmore, of Tacoma, governor of Rotary District No. 1, was entertained at afternoon tea by Mr. Charles H. French, president of the Victoria Rotary Club, on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of Mrs. French, tea was poured by Mr. French, assisted in the dining-room by Mr. John Johnson and Mr. Samuel Armstrong.

Born near London, England, Mr. Dinmore left some of the routine of his home-life as well as his relatives behind him when he came to the United States about twenty-five years ago. But he by no means forgot the happy custom of afternoon tea, and was very delighted to participate in the little social event that had so many happy associations with his boyhood in England.

Clever Hostess Provides Games for Guests

There is no cleverer hostess than the one who leaves her guests alone occasionally to enjoy themselves in their own way, and especially to rest, read and loiter around. But boredom may result from too much leisure on a week-end or longer visit. So it is the queen of hostesses who allows her visitors plenty of time to do what they most desire, but provides interesting games and occupations when leisure begins to pall.

Even the extremely sophisticated guest is quite likely to find quite childish games amusing, and even exciting, when done away from his or her usual environment and with delightful companions, so don't be afraid of giving your friends ennuis if the games you select were designed for the junior members of the family. Adults will find them extremely entertaining, and said junior members of the party—if any—will find just as little chance to enjoy them as Junior proverbially does his electric train at Christmas time when Dad and Big Brother undertake to show him how to run it.

Of course, roller skates, kite flying and bicycling probably will be greeted with shouts of joy by those who have not been able to indulge in such pastimes since they were small, even since the vintage for them started recently.

But games that the less active members may enjoy are croquet, or instance, in the centre of the picture is a peaceful scene with croquet on the river as the major attraction. In the foreground, however, are English lawn bowls for the dignified ones, rope quits, bull board (the one with numbers), spring back, played with balls; shuttle, net and a cork dart board.

At the right is a fleet of miniature boats in a regatta on a quiet little stream—almost as exciting as the real thing in boat racing.

With all these suggestions, don't make the mistake of inviting even the most congenial group to your summer home without a few such aids to entertainment.

QUANTON JUST MISSES CENTURY

Five C's and Fairfield Draw in Wednesday League Fixture at Beacon Hill

A spectacular stand by Eric Quanton, who made 97, not out, was the highlight of the game between the Five C's and Fairfield in the only Wednesday Cricket League fixture, played at Beacon Hill. Quanton was robbed of his century by a mistaken declaration on the part of the Five C's captain, when the team had piled up a total of 202 for seven wickets. The game ended a draw.

Turner and Hincks batted well for Fairfield, but Hincks took an hour and five minutes to make 11 runs, which robbed Fairfield of any chance to win.

Members of the team include Mrs. Jane McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawrence, Miss Almee Wright, Miss Betty Gaddes, Robert Lecky, Harold Malaya, and Reginald Harwood.

WIFE FOR SALE

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XII
Presently a kitchen entry door opened a few feet away from them, showing a dim, cavern-like interior lighted apparently by one feeble lamp. A tall, vociferous woman was among them, addressing herself exclusively to the boy.

"Chess, if you tell your Aunt Emma this on me, I'll never get over it," said the individual loudly. "I ben reel ill—hed the doctor in a spell back, and I lay I forgot the folks was comin'. Hed two diphtheria patches, too, from Alice Dunsmuir's boy. I ain't—however, Hudy interrupted herself, noticing the huddled group of newcomers for the first time, "step in, folks, and we'll see what we kin do. We don't need you no longer, Chess, and thanks for sittin' 'em here. No need blue-mouldin' out there in the snow. Looks to me like a real hard storm, the way it's warmin' up. Come in."

The car chugged away into blackness, the Olivers entered the dim kitchen smelling of ashes, apples, diawater, smelling sharply of mice. It was weakly lighted by one kerosene lamp. The enormous room was cold. The heaviness of the grave was in the room.

Mrs. Oliver sat limply down in a chair. She shuddered with a sudden chill. Eye narrowed her neck, and she burst into tears. Norah sat facing her a large, raw-boned woman of perhaps seventy, with a scraggle of grey hair waving severely off in a knob at the back of her head, teeth missing from her wide smile, and a costume of colorless wrappers super-imposed upon colorless wrappers to an extent that disguised her figure completely.

"I guess I look like Astor's pet gander all right," said this apparition. "But I ben reel lame lately, an' I haven't got about hardly none. I was goin' up to my sister's to-morrow, if it didn't snow too heavy, an' I tell her some friends of Mr. Dunsmuir's was comin' up, an' we had to get ready for 'em. Looks like I've lost track of the days—didn't seem possible it's the seventh already."

"Well, that's all right," Norah said stanchly, although her neck ached. "Only it's too bad to have gotten you out of bed. The thing is, we want supper, you see, and somewhere to sleep. What could we do?"
"I lay I don't believe there's one thing in this house you could eat for supper."
"Telephoned," Eve commanded angrily. Neither Huidah or Norah paid any attention to her.

"There must be tea?" Norah asked, patiently, sweetly. "Would it be all right if I had a cup?"
"Well, there it is, dear. I had this dizzy spell awhile back and I just ben heavin' myself on my kerosene stove up to my room, and—"

"But here's wood; here's coal," Norah said desperately, opening the front door and led from the back of the kitchen to enormous pantries, woodsheds, outhouses. "We'll have to get this room warm on account of my mother. She's ben sick, an' she's stronger'n most boys."
"I wish you'd send her round," Norah said.

"Telephoned," Eve commanded angrily. Neither Huidah or Norah paid any attention to her.

"The rooms upstairs is awful cold," Huidah volunteered.

"Well, we'll get this warm, and get warm ourselves and then see," Norah filled the heavy iron kettle at the sink pump.

"When's the next train?" Eve exclaimed rather than asked.

"There's a train tomorrow at noon," Huidah answered. And Norah could almost have laughed at the laconic brevity of the words. "This milk back in the cold pantry," Huidah presently observed.

Norah came out of the pantry with a great tin of rolled oats.

"We'll have oatmeal," she said, "and tea with cream. And there are plum puddings, too."
"You kin skim all the cream you want off them pans in the entry closet. They've jest ben a settin' there."

"Mother, you'll soon be enjoying a large bowl of oatmeal and cream, and that'll warm you up. But, Huidah," Norah said, "we'll have to sleep down here tonight. We'll have to bring the mattresses and blankets down, and sleep here somehow."

Huidah, as the steadily increasing heat from the stove began to make the room habitable, had seated herself in a rocker and wrapped her arms about her. She rose abruptly.

ROTARIANS HEAR

District Governor Addresses Local Club on Aims and "Living" of Rotary

"Rotary, in my mind, is just the way we live our everyday life, the way in which we treat our families, our employers and employees and business associates. It is the way in which we get behind worth-while civic enterprises," said William J. Dinsmore, governor of Rotary District No. 1, in an address before the local club at its luncheon yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

"Let us not be discouraged by the high ideals and aims of Rotary, but let us continue to keep Rotary in our hearts and not wear it on our sleeves," he urged.

Many members of Rotary were of the opinion that politics in clubs were "taboo," but Mr. Dinsmore said it was the duty of every member to find out the best man in his city suited for a civic position and support him to the limit. "There is no disgrace in supporting such a man," he declared.

Speaking of monuments to the club, Mr. Dinsmore said it was not the duty of Rotary to erect imposing looking structures with "donated by Rotary" signs all over them. "What higher and better monument could we have than the young men we are sponsoring to complete their college and university trainings or those boys who are being sent to camps each year," he declared.

Opposition Recorded by Native Sons of Canada—Hamilton Man Elected President

OTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP)—George J. Smith, Hamilton, was elected president of the Native Sons of Canada at the concluding session of the twelfth annual convention last night. The next convention will be held next year in Winnipeg, commencing August 8.

At the closing sitting of the three-day session, the convention recorded its strong opposition to export of nickel or nickel alloys. In the opinion of the delegates the products were used by foreign powers for armament purposes.

All magistrates should be chosen from the legal profession, the meeting further considered.

Besides the president, national officers elected were J. Morrison, Vancouver, B.C., first vice-president; F. G. J. McDonagh, Toronto, secretary; Fred Baker, Toronto, treasurer; G. W. Burkholder, Hamilton, national historian; B. W. Howard, Ottawa, chaplain; R. A. St. John, Winnipeg, auditor; Aurele Parisien, Ottawa, sergeant-at-arms; inside guard, J. Moran, Sioux Lookout; outside guard, J. E. Decosse, Hull, Que.

"Japan is outstripping Great Britain and the United States in the race for markets, and the sooner this circumstance is appreciated the better it will be for all of us," the shipowner stated.

So far this year 384,643 forty-eight-pound cases have been packed, as compared to 422,498 and 382,604 cases in the corresponding periods of 1932 and 1931 respectively. Packs for 1930 and 1929 over the same period were 924,860 and 396,023 respectively.

Average Catch of Pinks on Skeena River Totals 120

PRINCE RUPERT, Aug. 10 (CP).—Reports from the Skeena River in regard to yesterday's fishing was that the boats were averaging 120 pinks but that the number of sockeye had fallen off to about eight to the boat. The pink run continues good at the Nass River, where the average to the boat is still given at 150, with about ten sockeye seiners off the coast. Cohoes are being taken on the trolling grounds in increasingly large numbers, with a diminishing number of spring chinook. These fish are not expected to reach the Skeena River until late this month, and there is some speculation as to what the demand for them will be if they come in any large numbers.

EMPIRE NOW HAS THRILLING FILM

The Fires of Fate is Fine Adaptation of Conan Doyle Story—Lester Matthews Heads Cast

Here is the film that has been awaited here. Scorching desert sands; a pitiless sun beating overhead; a lawless ferocious tribe swooping down upon a defenceless tourist party—all these are seen today and more at the Empire Theatre, where "The Fires of Fate," that masterpiece by a master of his craft—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, is being shown.

The all-star cast, headed by Lester Matthews, includes Dorothy Bartlam and Donald Cathrop, Kathleen O'Regan and Garry Marsh, but added to this is the fact that Norman Walker, the director of this amazing and unexampled production, took the entire company to the Sudan—the actual location of the story—and has succeeded in bringing to the screen, for the benefit of screengoers, not only an intensely thrilling narrative but desert scenes of awe-inspiring and unparalleled beauty. Also on the same bill is "The Love Race," a British comedy, starring Stanley Lupino.

DOMINION "When Ladies Meet." THEATRE is now at the Dominion Theatre, with Ann Harding and Robert Montgomery co-starring in one of the most unusual stories seen on the screen in many months.

Adapted from the Rachel Crothers play that hit Broadway with a smash this season, the new Metro Goldwyn-Mayer picture is crammed full of sure-fire situations and dialogue that afford the important personages in the cast to make the most of it.

PLAYHOUSE The first Jesse L. THEATRE "Lucky production for Fox Film, "Zoo in Budapest," is now at the Playhouse Theatre for an engagement of three days. It marks the return of the noted producer to the active production ranks of the screen. Loretta Young and Gene Raymond have the feature roles in this film. The supporting cast, headed by O. P. Heggie, has Wally Albright, Paul Fix, Murray Kinnell, Ruth Warren and Roy Stewart.

COLUMBIA One would scarcely recognize the Paul Whiteman of today as the same round orchestra leader and comedian who appears in Universal's revived "King of Jazz," now at the Columbia Theatre. Perhaps Paul recalled the old adage about nobody loving a fat man, and thought that his success in courting the beautiful Margaret Livingston depended on his losing weight. But, at any rate, he has lost seventy-four pounds since his appearance in "King of Jazz," and also gained a bride.

CAPITOL Treat 'em rough has become the new slogan for love-making in motion pictures. At least Fay Wray and Ralph Bellamy, who are featured in Columbia's "Below the Sea," now showing at the Capitol Theatre, spend most of their time jeering

TRIBUNAL HANDS DOWN DECISIONS

More Appeals Disposed of as Far as Taking Evidence is Concerned

The sitting of the pension tribunal with Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., and Captain E. C. MacKenzie presiding, continued its hearings yesterday morning, devoting the afternoon to the review of the evidence preparatory to giving judgments. Before adjournment yesterday, a decision was given with respect to two applications heard at this sitting. In one of them the tribunal found that under one of the headings from which the applicant suffered, the cause dated back to war service, but the other trouble from which he suffered was not to be so interpreted.

In the other case, the application was sustained as to the war being the primary cause of the disability. Yesterday, one of the applicants, who is the father of three children and who is blind in his right eye and gets about only by the aid of crutches, had his case under review.

SPECIALIST TESTIFIES

Dr. M. J. Keys, as a specialist, was called in to give evidence relative to the development of the disability in the eye. He had treated the applicant, and had had correspondence with the family doctor of the applicant in the East with reference to the history of the case.

Dr. W. P. Walker was called in connection with another case where the applicant was seventy years of age and claimed continual pains in the back and other ailments which left him unable to carry on his work.

A case of a nervous breakdown attributed to the war, and another application in which the applicant had been buried when a trench was blown in on the Somme, completed the applications for the day. In the latter case, Dr. Walter Haply testified that the applicant had served under him in the early part of the war.

Everywhere it's "Change to Super SHELL"

NOW... WITHOUT FORMER 3¢ PREMIUM

You would expect such extra mileage, such steady smooth power only from gasolines that cost more per gallon. But this new Super Shell sells at the regular gasoline price. The entire former 3¢ premium is off.

No wonder—East and West—millions are changing to it.

Super Shell is a concentrated gasoline especially developed to give you extra mileage. By new processes in Shell's western refineries, the wasteful parts in ordinary gasoline are taken out. Into Super Shell go only petroleum's most efficient working parts.

This improved Super Shell gasoline makes motors easier to start. It curbs knocks amazingly—not one other gasoline selling at its price has as high an anti-knock rating. And Super Shell is packed with power.

The first time you fill your tank, you'll notice a difference. And you'll be urging your friends—as millions are—"Change to Super Shell."

Super SHELL

Super Shell is produced at Shellburn, B. C. Shell Oil Company of British Columbia, Ltd.

Says a Plymouth owner: "On a trip to Los Angeles, I tested four different gasolines at high speeds. I got 16 1/2 miles per gallon from Super Shell—the best I got from any of the other three brands was 15 1/2 miles."

Rookie Moundsman Robbed of Perfect Game by Hits in Eighth and Ninth Innings — Al Crowder Chalks Up Seventeenth Win for Senators Over Boston, 5-3

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—Roy Parmelee, the big "freshman" right hander of New York Giants, came within two innings and two hits of pitching a no-hit game today as he hurled the league leaders to a 4-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Parmelee yielded only two hits, one by Wes Schumacher in the eighth and one by Chuck Klein in the ninth, and faced only thirty-two batters as he found the low key just the thing to help his fast ball along, and his "slider" and his change of pace worked to perfection.

It was Jimmy's first visit to a concert, and observing the antics of the conductor, he turned to his mother and asked: "Why is that man shaking his stick at the lady on the stage?"

"Oh-sh!—pleading his mother."

"He's not shaking it at her."

"Well, what's she holier in' then?"

Up-Islander to Seek Honors in Wrigley Classic

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10 (CP).—George Taylorson, broad-shouldered lumberjack from Campbell River, Vancouver Island, is en route today to Toronto to join British Columbia's little legion of contenders for the fifteen-mile Wrigley swimming marathon in Lake Ontario on August 30.

Taylorson has been training in Campbell Lake for the past two months and in the two weeks available in Toronto before the swim, hopes to get used to the colder water which forced him out of the race at the twelve-mile mark last year.

THE VALUE OF LIME
A few years ago in a hospital clinic it was found that the blood in one of the patients did not coagulate or thicken quickly enough, and chloride of lime (not the chloride of lime used for disinfecting) was given in fifteen grain doses in a syrup three times a day.

The blood then coagulated in normal time, but the physician was surprised to see that an old varicose ulcer on the leg, which had resisted treatment for a long time had healed. He immediately gave the lime to a number of cases with varicose ulcer and had very satisfactory results.

A short time ago it was found that while lime would not cure cancer, it greatly relieved the pain. It was given in the form of lime or calcium gluconate, five to seven grain doses three times a day. Recently Dr. F. Fabry, Munich, reported a case where calcium chloride was injected into the veins in cocaine poisoning. He states that the convulsions ceased, the rapid shallow breathing became slow and deep, the rigid hands and feet relaxed and the pulse grew stronger.

proven to be of service in the treatment of poisoning by mercury. Dr. J. H. Stokes, in Journal of American Medical Association, says that lime is of great help in preventing poisoning and irritation by arsenic when this treatment must be given for certain diseases. But you do not need lime for any poisoning or other ailment in the body. Of what use, then, is the above knowledge to you? If you will take plenty of lime daily in your food you will not only maintain the structure of the tissues, ward off various ailments, and any sore or irritation will heal more rapidly.

The foods rich in lime are milk, green vegetables, eggs and cheese.

OYSTER BEDS ARE INSPECTED

Dominion Experts Test Waters — Propagating New Species

LADYSMITH, Aug. 10.—Suggestion contained in a letter addressed to the local Board of Trade to the effect that salmon runs on creeks in the vicinity might be injurious to the famous oyster beds of the district was scouted here today.

It was asserted that the beds and the waters of the harbor are subjected to the closest observation by and to frequent scientific tests on the part of Dominion Government biological experts. Further, it was pointed out that by reason of the excellent conditions existing in Oyster Harbor, the native beds were selected for experiments in the propagation of new types of oysters. These experiments have been carried on for the past three months under direction of B. R. Eisey, an official specializing in shell fish and bivalves.

Ever since settlement was established on the east coast of Vancouver Island the native oysters of the harbor have been in demand for their high quality and excellent flavor. It was the existence of these extensive beds that gave the fine harbor its name. In later years the beds have been scientifically cultivated and the shipment of fresh oysters to the markets of British Columbia is today an important part of the industrial and commercial life of the city.

LIGHT MATTERS OCCUPY COUNCIL

Finance Committee Reports on Liquidation of Bonds—Additional Lighting Is Discussed

LADYSMITH, Aug. 10.—The feature of the regular city council meeting held last evening, was the reading of an incomplete report from Alderman J. D. Giovando, chairman of the finance committee. The transactions which secured the final liquidation of the electric light bonds to the amount of $25,000, were detailed in the report, and at the next regular meeting a further report will be presented showing how the settlement affects the city's finances as a whole.

A resident of the city wrote asking that he be allowed to render work in lieu of taxes, as otherwise he might be obliged to default his current taxes. Alderman Vandecastey, in moving that the matter be laid over meanwhile, remarked the situation was delicate. It was dangerous to set a precedent of this nature, or the city might find the majority of its taxpayers defaulting to procure the privilege of working the taxes off. At the same time, there doubtless was an occasional instance where the party was inevitably faced with losing his property unless work was provided. The motion carried.

The electric light committee brought up a report on the request of the delegation from Diamond district residents recently, for an extension of the street lighting system to provide a few lights on the Island Highway south of the city, for the matter of 2,000 feet from the municipal limits. The work would require eight poles and wiring, and exclusive of labor, would cost approximately $90.

Discussion of this matter brought up the point that residents of the Victoria present district (formerly part of the Island Highway system) had requested two lights on the street some time ago, and no further developments had transpired. Mayor Mason believed that if any action should be taken in the Victoria Crescent region, the line should be made to complete the circuit with the present lights on the Island Highway at Bayview Road. Estimates of costs were vague, and a report will be brought in later, defining costs of the two requested lights and the proposed entire circuit. Meanwhile, the delegation from the Diamond local of the United Farmers will be asked to what material extent they will contribute towards the undertaking at the south end of the city.

An artist saw an old countryman who he thought would make a good model. So he sent his maid to bring in the man to paint him. The old fellow hesitated. "Will he pay me well?" "Oh, yes, he'll probably give you a pound."

Still the old man hesitated. He looked off his shabby hat and scratched his head in perplexity. "It's an easy way to earn a pound," the maid prompted. "Oh, I know that," came the reply. "I was only wondering how I'd get the paint off afterwards."

Little Bedtime Stories

Chatterer Passes the Word Along
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Buster Bear heard that offer of Chatterer he didn't know what to say. He knew that it probably was true that Chatterer did know just where Prickly Porky was. But you know it was true that, despite all threats, Buster Bear did not want to find Prickly Porky at all. So now he growled something in his deepest, most grumbly rumbling voice and kept right on his way to places where he knew he wouldn't find Prickly Porky. What he said Chatterer couldn't understand. But he could understand, and did understand, Buster's actions, so he chuckled wickedly.

Chatterer snickered and Bobby Coon grinned.

Keeping Buster always in sight from the tree tops, Chatterer tagged along behind. All the time he kept a sharp watch for other little people of the Green Forest. As they passed near the house of Bobby Coon, Chatterer ran over and poked his head in at the doorway. "Hi Bobby!" he cried. "Do you know where Prickly Porky is?"

Bobby yawned sleepily, for Chatterer had just awakened him. "I knew where he was when I came to bed," replied Bobby, "and I guess he hasn't traveled far since then."

"All right," cried Chatterer. "If you want to see some fun, hang around where Prickly Porky is. Buster Bear has promised to teach him a lesson for being so careless with those little spears of his. Buster is pretending to look for him now, but he's taking great care not to look in the right place."

Chatterer snickered and Bobby Coon grinned. Then he yawned once more and started to climb up to his doorway where he could see what was going on.

Chatterer scampered along after Buster Bear so as not to lose sight of him. By and by they met Sammy Jay. Sammy's sharp eyes saw right away that Chatterer was up to some mischief. He knew just by the way Chatterer was acting. He knew, of course, that it was something to do with Buster Bear. Sammy flew over to the tree in which Chatterer happened to be resting for a moment.

"What's up?" demanded Sammy. Chatterer chuckled. Then he told Sammy Jay all about it, and suggested to Sammy that he tell everybody he met, and ask each one to offer to guide Buster Bear to the place where Prickly Porky was.

Sammy Jay flew away. First he made sure of just where Prickly Porky actually was. Then he hurried this way, and hurried that way, through the Green Forest and over the Green Meadows, telling everyone he could find just where Prickly Porky was and how, if they should happen to meet Buster Bear, it would be very nice and polite to offer to lead him to Prickly Porky. Meanwhile Chatterer was passing a similar word along to everyone he saw. Among them was Peter Rabbit. At first, Peter didn't see through the joke. He knew exactly where Prickly Porky was and he couldn't quite make up his mind that it would be right for him to lead Buster Bear there to give Prickly Porky such a terrible shaking. He looked up at Chatterer with a worried expression. He would be glad to do Buster Bear a favor, but he didn't want to be the cause of any harm to Prickly Porky.

Suddenly Chatterer snickered, and all in a flash, Peter understood. He remembered that never yet had anyone dared lay hand or paw on Prickly Porky. He guessed that Buster was trying really hard to find Prickly Porky. The spirit of mischief crept into Peter's own eyes and he hurried after Buster Bear.
